In 4 semestres, los alumnos han pasado de ser estudiantes pasivos a participantes activos en el aprendizaje.

There is a significant difference in the mean number of days between the onset of symptoms and the first medical consultation between the two groups ($p < 0.05$). The mean number of days between the onset of symptoms and the first medical consultation was significantly lower in the control group (mean = 1.5 days) than in the study group (mean = 2.5 days).

Sickness hounds Guimaras residents

By Journal Staff
and Mary Jo del Valle

MANILA, Sept. 15 (AP) — A deadly outbreak of a mysterious illness has struck residents of Guimaras, a small island province in the Philippines, killing at least 10 people and sickening dozens more.

A crowd of people gathered on a beach in Guimaras, Philippines, looking towards the sea where a boat is visible.

Several more deaths were reported.

Health officials in Guimaras said the illness, which has been named "Guimaras fever," is characterized by high fever, muscle aches, and in some cases, death. The illness has been spreading since late August, and health officials are currently investigating the cause.

Bishop assails logging return in Sierra Madre

By [illegible] and [illegible]

MANILA, Philippines — Bishop Genevivo Garcia, who has been a vocal critic of the government's logging policy, assailed the return of logging to the Sierra Madre mountains. He said the move would destroy the environment and the lives of the indigenous people who live there.

Garcia, who is the bishop of the Diocese of Marikina, said that the logging industry has been a major cause of deforestation in the Sierra Madre. He said that the logging industry has been responsible for the loss of millions of hectares of forest, which is home to many rare and endangered species.

Garcia said that the logging industry has also been responsible for the displacement of many indigenous people from their ancestral lands. He said that the logging industry has been a major cause of poverty and social inequality in the Sierra Madre region.

Garcia said that the government's decision to allow logging to resume in the Sierra Madre is a betrayal of the people of the region. He said that the government should instead focus on protecting the environment and the lives of the indigenous people.

Garcia said that he would continue to fight against the logging industry and the government's decision to allow logging to resume in the Sierra Madre.

Minda Olympic Fest comes off the wraps

By Ben Reyes

MANILA (Inquirer) — The 15th annual Minda Olympic Fest, a multi-sport event for the Minda group of companies, wrapped up its activities on Sunday.

The event, which was held at the Minda Sports Complex in Alabang, started on Saturday and ended on Sunday. It featured a variety of sports, including basketball, volleyball, badminton, and table tennis.

The Minda group of companies, which includes Minda Group of Companies, Minda Group of Industries, and Minda Group of Services, has been sponsoring the event since its inception in 1999.

The event was a great success, and it was a pleasure to see the athletes perform so well. We hope to see them again next year.

The Minda group of companies is committed to promoting sports and fitness among its employees and the community. We hope to continue this tradition for many years to come.

Shell to start selling CNG

By David L. Ho

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Shell International Chemical Co. is planning to start selling compressed natural gas (CNG) to Pennsylvania buses, a move that would make the company the first in the world to do so.

The gas, which is produced from natural gas, is a clean-burning fuel that is being used by a growing number of companies and individuals. Shell is currently selling CNG to a limited number of customers in the United States, but it is planning to expand its sales to include Pennsylvania buses.

Yap urges Pangasinan mango farmers to replant

By Robert A. Marder, AT

YAP (AP) — Pangasinan mango farmers are being urged to replant their orchards with new, improved varieties of mangoes. This is part of a program to increase the productivity and profitability of the mango industry in Pangasinan.

The program is being implemented by the Pangasinan Agricultural Experiment Station, which is working with local farmers to introduce new mango varieties that are more resistant to disease and have a longer shelf life.

Figure 1 is a 5x5 grid of 25 small images showing the development of a chick embryo from fertilization to hatching. The images are arranged in a grid with rows and columns labeled with letters and numbers. The first row is labeled 'a' and the first column is labeled '1'. The last row is labeled 'e' and the last column is labeled '5'. The images show the progression of the embryo from a single cell to a fully formed chick.

Figure 1 shows the ^1H NMR spectrum of poly(2-vinylpyridine) in CDCl_3 . The spectrum displays several peaks corresponding to the polymer structure. The backbone protons are labeled 'a' and 'b', the vinyl protons are labeled 'c', and the pyridine ring protons are labeled 'd'. The x-axis represents the chemical shift in ppm, ranging from 0 to 10. The y-axis represents the intensity of the peaks.

Facial Care Centre FOR MEN offers 5 Ways to rid your skin of its flaws

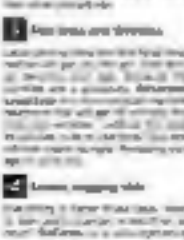

1. Skin care and damage

Facial care is the first step in achieving a healthy, glowing complexion. It involves the use of various products and techniques to cleanse, exfoliate, and moisturize the skin. This process helps to remove dead skin cells, unclog pores, and prevent acne. It also helps to improve the overall texture and tone of the skin.

2. Facial treatments and skin care

Facial treatments are specialized procedures that target specific skin concerns. These can include deep cleansing, chemical peels, microdermabrasion, and laser treatments. Each treatment is designed to address a particular issue, such as acne, wrinkles, or discoloration.
